Red Cross Officials to Appear Before Solons
And Ask For Relief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(UP)—A great deal of distress exists throughout the country calling for relief, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming of the public health service, told the house appropriations committee today.

He said malnutrition among children and an increase of pellagra and typhoid fever follow in the wake of the drought in the south.

Asked directly as to whether the $25,000,000 for the Red Cross in the interior department bill was needed, Cumming replied:

"I don't know about that $25,000,000. But somebody probably is going to have to spend that amount before this thing is over. We can't tell, of course, how long this situation will last."

Representative Byrnes, Democrat, Tennessee, arguing that the federal government must aid in the states taking care of disease, read to the committee two letters submitted by Cumming from the state health officers of Mississippi and West Virginia, saying that those states were unable to take care of medical needs, and there would be great distress unless the federal government helped.

This same situation, Byrnes said, exists in his own state, in Arkansas and in other states.

Red Cross officials are to appear before the committee tomorrow.

MIRACLE MAN OF FINANCE PAYS OFF

BELVIDERE, Ill., Jan. 27.—(UP)—A. W. Benham, Belvidere's miracle man of finance, paid off as usual to his investors yesterday as the county grand jury undertaken an inquiry into his methods of doing business that returns huge dividends.

Benham was given no indication that he would appear voluntarily before the grand jury. The state's attorney's office was expected to tell the jury what it had learned in connection with Benham's enterprises.

The county prosecutor said he was presenting the matter to the jury because he felt its members would be interested in looking into the mysteries surrounding Benham's activities.

CONFERENCE DELAYED

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., Jan. 27.—(UP)—Uncertainty continued to characterize the scheduled meeting of the intercoastal shipping conference today as expected delegates failed to arrive and sessions were further postponed.

Late Monday, when only 12 of some 50 anticipated participants in the conference had arrived, President Robert C. Thackara told the United Press he did not know when the conclave would be able to get under way.

FILM TO AID NEEDY PUPILS OF SANTA ANA

Calvin Coolidge
Says:

PASTOR URGES PRE-MARRIAGE 'HEALTH' BILL

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

NORTH HAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 27.—Winter travel is an important factor in our economic structure. We have great stretches of country, including the South Atlantic states, Florida, the Gulf region and the Mexican border land reaching through Southern California to the Pacific, which is unrivaled in climate and beauty. Excellent railway service, good roads and fine hotel accommodations make it most attractive to tourists.

Foreign travel is commendable. It is not necessary even to see America first. But to see the other parts of the world while our own country is unseen not only means lack of a desirable education but is scarcely patriotic.

Our people spend annually six or eight million dollars in foreign travel. On the whole it is a good investment. But it should not be done to the exclusion of domestic travel.

People came from all quarters of the globe to behold the wonders of our own land. We ought not to remain ignorant of them ourselves.

It may well be remembered that money now expended in travel will be an aid to business. Every dollar so invested is turned over many times and, reaching in numerous directions, will stimulate trade and increase employment.

To Request Bids On Construction Of Santiago Dam

A meeting of the directors of the Serrano and the Carpenter Irrigation districts will be held at Frank Collins' ranch on February 2, to authorize publication of a notice calling for bids on the Santiago dam that is to be constructed a mile and a half above Irvine park.

The dam will cost $750,000 and will be used to store water for the use of the two districts. The Irvine company will pay one-half the cost of the dam and will use one-half the water above the normal flow.

Approval of the plans for the construction of the dam was given Saturday by State Engineer Hyatt. The next regular meeting will be held February 13 at the Betzold studios in Anaheim.

Camera Society Stages Meeting

"If young people regard marriage as merely a civil agreement by which they can live together, let them go to the state for the officiating agency. If they desire the sanction of the church, through its ministry, let them first meet the demands of the church by being willing to discuss pertinent matters with the minister in advance of the ceremony and by signifying their willingness to enthrone religion in the home, and unite with some church."

WASHINGTON—During the first nine months of 1930, 2710 airplanes were manufactured in the United States, according to figures of the U. S. Department of Commerce. Of this number, 2154 were manufactured for civil use and the remainder for the army and navy.

The next regular meeting will be held February 13 at the Betzold studios in Anaheim.

TO SPEND WINTER WITH RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wharton and little daughter, Joana, have arrived from Parsons, Kas., to spend the remainder of the winter here with Mr. Wharton's brother and sister, J. Frank Wharton, 405 East Washington avenue, and Mrs. Henry Williams, 1309 North Broadway. They are spending much of their time at present at "Home James," the Laguna Beach cottage of Mrs. Frank Wharton's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wharton left Parsons several weeks ago in company with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wharton, to drive to California for a stay of several months, but at a point in Oklahoma, the automobile of the senior Mr. and Mrs. Wharton was struck by a careless driver and completely demolished, while Mrs. Wharton was so seriously injured that her life was despaired of for many days. She is at present in a hospital in Paul's Valley, Okla., where her injuries are so serious that she will be forced to remain for many months. Mr. Wharton was injured in the wreck also, but not so seriously as his wife.

After the patient passed the danger point, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wharton continued their journey to Santa Ana. Latest word from the accident victim is that she is showing a conservative but steady improvement.

MRS. SNYDER HELD TO ANSWER TODAY

Mrs. Ed Snyder, formerly of Costa Mesa, charged with issuing some 20 $30 checks on a number of Santa Ana merchants in November of last year, waived her preliminary examination in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court early today and was held to answer to the superior court.

In court today she was accused of issuing only one check, that to Vandernast and company, local clothiers. Deputy District Attorney Leo J. Frile stated that he would try her on only one of the cases but read the other charges into the record.

Mrs. Snyder was arrested in Kansas City, Mo., through a circular sent out by the Santa Ana police department, which conducted an extensive search for her before she was apprehended. When found, her eight children were with her and all eight were returned to California with her. Unable to make bail, Mrs. Snyder is being held in the county jail.

NEAR RIOT CAUSED BY FIRE IN JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—(UPI)—Fire in the disinfecting room of county jail No. 1 caused a near riot among 234 men and women prisoners here today.

Great swirls of sulphur fumes invaded the cells and prisoners began to scream and curse.

Guards quickly broke windows to permit escape of the fumes and then unlocked cell doors.

Court Notes

The trial of Mary Galvan and Leonardo Moreno was continuing today before a jury in the court of Judge G. K. Scovel. The prisoners are charged with contributing to the delinquency of minor children.

An appeal from a judgment of the Laguna Beach justice court for the plaintiff in the action of Charles F. Carlson against B. L. Goodrich, et al. in which Carlson is seeking judgment of $75.92 on an open book account, was being tried before Superior Judge James L. Allen today.

Carl Settle, who was charged with a statutory offense, was ordered discharged last night after the jury which heard the evidence in his case brought in a verdict of not guilty. The trial, which was held in the court of Judge James L. Allen, started on January 22, and was finished yesterday, after a recess over the week end. The jury considered its verdict from 2:18 until 9:17 p. m.

A decree of quiet title is sought in an action filed in superior court yesterday afternoon by Adwin N. Ames and Anna R. Smith against L. E. and John Hancock. The property is located in Huntington Beach.

The Business Men's Association of Santa Ana is plaintiff in an action on a note, that has been filed in superior court against W. R. Clifton, of Huntington Beach. Judgment of $850 and attorney fees of $125 are asked.

An appeal from a decision of Justice of the Peace Chris F. Pann, of Huntington Beach has been filed in superior court. The action is one originally filed by Lee Bryant against C. H. Combe and Napil Dunn, concerning an auto in which the plaintiff asked $86.60 and damages of $100 for alleged retention of the property. Judgment for the defendant was entered in the justice court on a counter claim of $35.60 for a repair bill.

BUT THE DEAN OBJECTS

These winter costumes adopted by co-eds at Oklahoma A. and M. College are comfortable and fetching, according to the co-eds—but they have aroused the objection of Julie Stout, dean of women, who has issued an edict banning them as classroom attire. In this picture, exhibiting the costumes, which are made up of riding breeches, riding boots, sweaters and men's shirts, topped off by leather or sheepskin jackets, are Lynell Minsey of Oklahoma City (left); Virginia Berry of Pawhuska (center) and Amelia Anne Hale of Pawhuska.

The case of Miles F. Payne, Santa Ana real estate operator, charged with grand theft, in connection with the selling of a lot to Mrs. Neille F. Wagner, at Hollywood Riviera, near Redondo, was continued in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court until this afternoon in order to allow the district attorney's office more time to produce witnesses.

Mrs. Wagner charged in her complaint that she was defrauded of $1500.

Payne was arrested here several weeks ago, but the case has been continued from time to time.

Collis Rites To Be On Wednesday

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the McAulay and Suters chapel at Fullerton for Mrs. W. R. Collis, 72, a resident of Fullerton for 35 years, who died yesterday after an extended illness. Mrs. Collis once lived in Santa Ana and had many warm friends here. She is survived by a son, Ronald.

STATE PARK AREA GIFT IS PROPOSED

Members of the state park commission today had under consideration the possibility of an addition to the gift of 40 acres of land near Capistrano Beach, made by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Doheny and Mrs. Doheny Jr., to California, for a state park. Following a visit of the commission to the land last Sunday, it was revealed today through S. H. Woodruff, of the Dana Point syndicate, that this concern is willing, if its charter permits, to add land across the coast highway from the Doheny gift to increase the park area to 200 acres.

Woodruff said, if the plan goes through, an attempt might be made to secure a triangular strip from the Santa Fe railroad to add to the park, which would give 700 additional feet of ocean frontage. A plan suggested by Woodruff for development of the park includes building a flood control channel on San Juan Creek, creation of an airport and building of a breakwater from Dana Point in front of the state park area.

"I tried other remedies but they did not help. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and as I was using the Soap I purchased some Ointment. After using them for about two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Nora Ligon, 469 So. Orange St., Orange, Calif.

TITLE FIRM IS DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE ACTION

Remodeling of business rooms on North Main street in connection with the erection of the fine new home of the Orange County Title company has led to a damage suit asking judgment of $40,000 which was filed against the title company and others yesterday afternoon by Fred and Margaret Feinsteins. Trespass and injury to property is set up as the basis for the suit.

The complaint asserts that premises at 417 North Main street were occupied by the plaintiffs under a lease from the defendants in which they operated a millinery and ladies' apparel shop, and that the location had been occupied continuously since Aug. 1, 1924, during which time they had built up a successful retail business that

PRESENT DANA POINT SANITARY DISTRICT PLAN

Following the presentation of a plan to cut down the amount of current to be used in the Dana Point Lighting district so that the tax rate for this purpose could be kept under $2, Judge F. C. Drummond, attorney for the Dana Point Syndicate and the Title Insurance and Trust company, presented a resolution to the board of supervisors to-day calling for the formation of a sanitary district in Dana Point.

The lighting district was formulated some time ago by the board and a contract for current and maintenance of the district was opened by the board last week which called for expenditure of $11,750 per year over a five year period. This price was questioned by the board and a conference on the matter called for today. In addition to Drummond, T. A. Jordan, engineer for the company, and S. H. Woodruff, were present today.

The new plan calls for reducing the size of lights in some parts of the district and a schedule was presented under which it is declared by Jordan that current could be furnished at $8313 per year. At this price the tax rate would be $1.73.

Supervisor George Jeffrey presented a motion rejecting the previous bid, and calling for another one under the new specifications. The motion also inserted a clause in the contract providing that it could be terminated at the end of any fiscal year during the five years, on 30 days written notice. The contract was submitted by the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company.

The sanitary district proposition was suggested under a plan whereby the board of supervisors assumes the initiative in creating the district. Judge Drummond pointing out that under other law when it could be formed on petition of 25 or more freeholders resident in the district, no action could be taken, as there was not that number of resident freeholders in the district.

Seek Protection From Thieves Of Poultry at Mesa

Activities of poultry thieves near Costa Mesa have resulted in an appeal to the board of supervisors for assistance in organization protection against their depredations. Several letters from residents of the community were read at the board meeting today, in which assistance of the county was asked. The matter was referred to Robert Sandon, investigator in the office of District Attorney Sam L. Collins, who heads the county fruit patrol.

Employees Must Live In City, Council Rules

One of these is Miss Lillian Peters, clerk in the assessor's office, a resident of Santa Ana. The city assessor, Alfred Smith, made a written plea for retaining Miss Peters on the city payroll, stating that her work is of a special nature. The other is Mrs. Lola Anderson, who lives in Costa Mesa. She is a clerk in the water department, and Water Superintendent R. L. Patterson made a similar plea for her.

SECOND TRUCK FOR FIRE WORK ARRIVES TODAY

ORANGE, Jan. 27.—The second of the two fire trucks recently acquired by the county of Orange for use in rural fire fighting, was expected to arrive from Sacramento today, according to Forest Ranger Joe Sherman. The first truck has been located in this city and is housed in the Ehlen building across from the city fire hall and when needed will be driven by one of the truck drivers at the fire hall.

According to Sherman the new trucks cost approximately $2000 each and are specially constructed so as to be capable of mountain climbing. The truck which is expected to arrive today will be located in the southern part of the county, probably near San Juan Capistrano.

The trucks were purchased for fighting grass and brush fire, but should a second fire break out in the city while the other city trucks were in use, the county truck could be used in fighting the second blaze, Sherman states.

The truck here will also be used for fires which occur in the rural districts and may also be used in federal forest reserves should fires break out. Being state equipment, there are no restrictions as to their use, Sherman said.

Both trucks carry 300 gallons of water and 2,500 feet of hose as well as fire fighting tools.

RECENT BOOKS REVIEWED FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, city librarian, reviewed a number of books which are to be found on the shelves of the city library at a meeting of the book review section of the Woman's club yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Faulkner pointed out the present tendency in recent books to compress the time of action into short periods of time and mentioned in particular, Bromfield's "Twenty-Four Hours," where all of the action of the rather lengthy novel is encompassed in this period of time.

Other books received by the librarian included Fannie Hurst's "Back Street," which she designated as a rather sordid story redeemed by its last page. "Swallows and Amazons," a volume of juvenile fiction by Arthur Ransom, was reviewed comprehensively, the book being constructed around a group of children whose father is a sea captain and who live on land and in their imaginations the lives of sailors on the high seas.

"Silence" a story of two young college graduates who marry and pioneer on the desert, is a recent library addition. Mrs. Faulkner said as is H. G. Wells' "The Science of Life." Another new volume is "California Memories from 1857 to 1930," written by Jackson A. Graves, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Los Angeles.

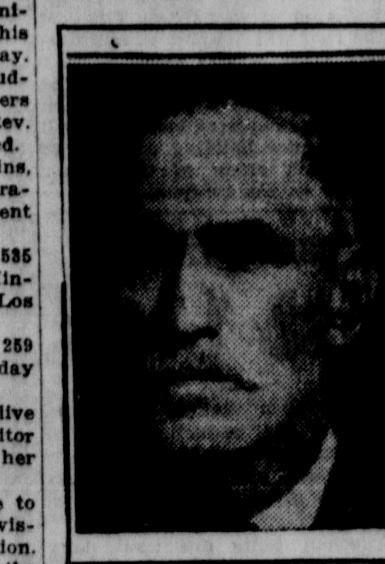

Mrs. Faulkner called special attention to Richard E. Byrd's "Little America" and gave an interesting talk she heard the explorers give at Pomona last week.

Pre-Cooling Plant For Tustin Citrus Association

All Officers Re-elected at Annual Dinner

2 New Fire Engines For Beach City

TUSTIN, Jan. 27.—A pre-cooling plant is planned by the Tustin Hills Citrus association, discussion taking place at yesterday's annual meeting.

As a quorum was not present, the old board was reorganized, with A. G. Finley, president; Perry E. Lewis, first vice president; F. B. Browning, second vice president; C. J. Klatt, H. L. Wakeham, A. M. Robinson, F. B. Browning and B. J. McReynolds, directors; B. A. Crawford was re-appointed to the office of secretary-manager.

The association's receipts for the past year broke all records, $1,163,962.22 being paid to the growers, the annual report of Secretary-Manager Crawford revealed. C. C. Hills, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, spoke in the forenoon.

The pre-cooling plant will be completed in time for the coming Valencia crop. The Tustin plant finished packing navel oranges last Thursday, 20 cars having been shipped.

Nearly 300 were present for the roast turkey dinner, served at noon by the Tustin Pythian Sisters in the K. P. hall which had been prettily decorated for the occasion.

Last year was the best year for returns in the history of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, f. o. b. returns of the exchange for the state of California as a whole being $135,000,000," declared Paul Armstrong, of Los Angeles, assistant general manager of the exchange, at the annual meeting.

"In 1928, the total citrus supply from Florida and California was approximately 100,000 cars of fruit. The supply of citrus fruit from these two states was about the same in 1930. Oranges consumed last year averaged 72 for every person in the United States. The average orange sold last year at the rate of 75 cents per dozen. The high prices last year were due first, to orderly distribution of fruit; second, to the accumulated effect of 23 years of Sunkist advertising, and lastly, in a large measure to the confidence of the trade in the stability of the market."

SAN CLEMENTE HEARING WILL OPEN JAN. 29

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 27.—Hearing on San Clemente's plea for a separate school district with the boundaries of the city as boundaries of the district will be heard before the state board of control Thursday afternoon at Sacramento. The hearing is an appeal to the state board from a recent ruling by Virgil Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, denying the petition for separation of San Clemente from the Serra school district.

Kersey ruled against the division because of his department's policy of consolidating and for larger administrative units. With both Serra and San Clemente residents, however, favoring division, and with San Clemente pupils using a city owned school, the district was not content to abide by Kersey's ruling and the board of supervisors of Orange county asked the state board to hear an appeal.

Mayor Thomas F. Murphine, Hal Warner, secretary of the chamber of commerce and Den Acres, members of the Serra school board left San Clemente today for Sacramento. Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton and H. T. Kenny, of Capistrano Beach, also will attend the hearing.

The chamber in a letter had stated its willingness to co-operate to a certain extent in the girls' swimming carnival, which the Business Men's association has tentatively scheduled for May 24, and which they asked the chamber to endorse and co-operate in staging. A delegation of three members of the Business Men's association, Theo. Robbins, Harold L. Johnson and William James, appeared at the chamber meeting, and all three are also members of the chamber.

Santa Ana
demand Bucket Syrup

It's a short, simple story . . . a true story. Careful housewives have discovered in Bucket Syrup just the kind of syrup they would like to make themselves . . . just as pure and wholesome as they like their food to be. For Bucket Syrup is made only of pure maple sugar from the hillsides of Vermont and Canada and pure granulated cane sugar. Nothing else!

But the secret of its rare, fine flavor . . . of its healthfulness . . . its mellow sweetness . . . is all bound up in a blending process—timed blending—which belongs exclusively to Bucket Syrup. Made by masters of syrup blending over 40 years' experience . . . that's the answer.

Take a can of Bucket Syrup. Note how handy it is. And note the new-type, non-spilling spout. Now taste it. Maple . . . just as Nature made it . . . flavor that lingers!

What a treat on waffles, French toast, hot biscuits, griddle cakes, or as a flavor for grape-fruit, beverages and ice cream.

WASHINGTON TO BE CONTENDER FOR A. L. FLAG

BY LES CONKLIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Yankees may be the class of the American league as far as batting goes, but Washington is strong in pitching as well as hitting.

This reminder was left with New York fans today by Walter Johnson, pilot of the Senators, following a visit here. The Washington hurling corps was the most effective in the league last year, and Johnson believes his pitchers will be equally as good this season.

The Washington board of strategy, consisting of Sir Walter and Owner Clark Griffith, hoped that Irving (Bump) Hadley, their elongated right-hander, will win 25 games in 1931. With such sterling twirlers as Alvin Crowder, Sam Jones, Ad Liska, Lloyd Brown and Flipo Marberry to aid Hadley, and with a supporting cast that batted .302 last season, the Washington leaders have a good reason to be optimistic over their chances of breaking the dynasty of the Athletics.

Began Like Champions

Hadley began his big league career like a world beater, winning 14 games and losing only 6 in 1927. He was a disappointment in the next two campaigns but came back last season to win 16 games against 11 defeats and to rank eighth in the earned run averages with a mark of 3.74 runs per game.

Griffith paid special attention to Hadley throughout the 1930 season and put a bonus clause in his contract as an added incentive. "Bump" collected one bonus by winning 15 games. But with $500 awaiting him for every victory in excess of that number, he became over-anxious and was unable to turn in another win.

Griffith believes Hadley will click this season and is also confident that his three southpaws, Brown, Bob Burke and "Lefty" Fischer, will have a good year. With well-rounded mound staff that is capable of winning close to 100 games, the Senators will make no experiments in the pitching line at training camp. The team will play Phoenix junior college Friday as well as Saturday night, starting their homeward jaunt early Sunday.

The Dons also have a game scheduled with Whittier college varsity here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The Poets, once humbled by the Dons this season, are tied with Occidental and Redlands for first place in the Southern California conference. They hold victories over Pomona and Caltech.

Near the top we moved off and tied the horses and proceeded afoot to where John was sure he had seen the bear. But the bear was nowhere in sight; it seemed to worry him. By a sign he indicated I was to stay "put" while he crept about without making a sound—peering here, there and everywhere. Soon he returned, shook his head but uttered no word.

We were standing behind a bush about four feet high and I thought we could see everything within a radius of 100 yards, the wind steady in our favor. Right in front and just below us, not 15 steps away, was a small bunch of blueberry bushes around the stump of a blown-over tree, but it didn't occur to me there was enough cover to conceal anything. Standing right at my shoulders, John pointed at these.

When we awoke we moved to another hill where we separated so we might watch more country. I was interested in watching some moose when John looked up to report a bear feeding near the top of another hill, some considerable distance away. That fellow certainly has good eyes as I could just make out a black object when he told me exactly where to look. We got the horses, made a long detour to get the wind and climbed the hill on the opposite side from the bear.

SERMON SERIES COMPLETED BY REV. RINGLAND

The last of a series of sermons preached by the Rev. T. W. Ringland, of Los Angeles, in the revival that is being conducted by the Rev. R. W. Harlow at the First United Brethren church, were preached Sunday. The revival will continue throughout this week however, with various pastors assisting in the work.

At the morning service Sunday the subject was "Escaped from the Bondage of Death" based on the text found in Paul's letter to the Romans, 7:24—"O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" The evening sermon was "Lost Opportunities", from the text Jeremiah 8:20—"The harvest is past and the summer is ended and I am not saved."

In discussing this subject the Rev. Mr. Ringland said "Procrastination is the thief of souls. The devil's business is to get us to put off until tomorrow what we ought to do today." He showed by many convincing illustrations the danger of procrastinating when there is little time to make necessary preparations to meet God. He warned his audience not to trifles with the goodness of God and to take advantage of the opportunities that now offered themselves for salvation.

LUCKY FOR SAM

NEW YORK—A burglar broke into Samuel Hare's house and brave Sam got up and grappled with him. As they struggled around the room, both fell out a window into a courtyard 10 feet below. It so happened that Sam was on top when they landed, and the force of their fall, together with Sam's weight on top, knocked the burglar into oblivion until police arrived on the scene.

ATTAINING OF IDEALS URGED BY DR. WARMER

The text used by Dr. George A. Warmer at the First Methodist church Sunday morning was an exclamation to the one known as the rich young ruler. "Thou knowest the Commandments." "Not many of us could answer 'All these have I kept from my youth up,'" Dr. Warmer said. "Here was youth, wealth, opportunity in a peculiarly happy mixture. It was nearly ideal. The ideal can never be overtaken. Ideals are elusive things. When any part of them are achieved they are no longer ideal. They grow and expand and run before us luring to higher heights and leading the way."

"The climbing of the heights just at this point in our customary life needs four things. First, a new emphasis upon the common virtues—honesty, honor, truthfulness, courtesy, chivalry, willingness to work. At one time the Romans builded two temples, one to Honor the other to Virtue. They so set them that the only way to Honor was through the temple of virtue. Such it has always been and will continue. The common qualities are the most needed."

"Second, there should be a new insistence upon loyalties to home, the church, the civil institutions. This is but a truism to those who are open-eyed. Without the patient tenderness of mother love and the kindness of father care the child has no normal chance. Broken homes and broken lives team together. There may be cause for separation, but we are not overworking the causes when, in one state, there is a separation for every one and one half marriages, in another one for every three and one-half, and in another one for every five and one-half. A little sportsmanship such as is displayed in any athletic field would cure this ill in the vast majority of cases."

"Interdenominationalism is in the air and should be encouraged. We have too many preachers, and an oversupply of organization, attempting to interpret the one life philosophy of Jesus. But the best road to more interdenominationalism is to work toward this end through some denomination. Reform will, as always, come from within."

"Our civil institutions are not divine, they are human. Heroin is our hope. Human institutions can be made subservient to human demand. Whatever is the matter can be directly charged to ourselves in a democracy. We do not need so badly a bungled Wickham report as we need a lot of desire to see the laws enforced. Prohibition a failure? As yet no administration has honestly or seriously attempted to make it a fact."

"Third, we need to stem the tide of vandalism that is preying upon our spiritual principles. The almost age-old battle of determinism versus free will has not yet been successfully and finally decided. In too many instances we are reading of man being a product of environment, a combination of chemical forces, an organism that always responds identically to a like stimulus. The only thing the matter with such preaching is that it isn't true. Man is a moral being. The right of choice makes him so. Make of him an automaton and you kill the sense of responsibility. The flood tide of moral wreckage around us finds its rootage in this decaying sense of who is to blame. Too often the philosophy is not, 'Is it right?' but 'Can I get by with it? Let us know that no great moral crash is a flash out of a clear sky; it is rather a result of an accumulation of previous misdemeanors.'

"Fourth, there must be a return to Jesus way of life. Jesus preceded on two fundamental assumptions. That these assumptions were valid one has only to observe His life. They were, Sonship with God, and Kinship with man. Think on these principles. Incarnate them. They will sweeten individual experience and enrich social life."

See Increase For Refrigerator Sale

While 1930 proved the best sales year in the history of General Electric refrigerators, the coming year is expected to show further sales increases, according to Major M. Anderson, sales manager of the Wm. Le Vecke company, dealer for this refrigerator, whose store is located at 420 North Broadway.

Southern California dealers increased their sales 54 per cent in 1930 over those of 1929. This was almost twice the 28 per cent increase in the sales for the entire country.

Analysis of sales for the entire country revealed that 80 per cent were based on the installment plan.

The Public Forum

Communications under this head must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, Santa Ana Register,
Santa Ana, Calif.

Dear Editor:

In last Saturday's issue of the Santa Ana Register appeared an editorial commenting on the recent judgment of one of the departments of our superior court in committing a violator of the traffic laws to the county jail for one year.

Now, the undersigned is not disposed for one moment to criticize, censoriously, the publication of the above mentioned editorial, not knowing any of the facts in the case. We do not question the fact that crime is prevented and controlled by a wholesome limit, of court proceedings in criminal cases. Journalism, then, logically, becomes the medium of publication.

The question then arises, Mr. Editor, to what extent may such publication be allowed before it becomes destructive both to the accused and to the public. It is our opinion that certain cases coming into the courts justify a limited publication, if any. Such cases require a kindly consideration with view to preserving morale for future usefulness as a member of society.

The courts in passing judgment do not presume to be vindictive, nor to act in vengeance. The law acts in the protection of society and correction of the accused. Journalism, therefore, should not counteract the theoretical motive of the law by destroying forever all hope of a come-back for the accused by unnecessary publicity of detail.

Someone has said that "the psychology of successful journalism is to make the reader exclaim 'Oh, my God!' at the first glance." This type of journalism is mercenary and caters to the depraved appetite of a morbid curiosity. A blasé public craves the unwholesome stimulation of sordid details. When a newspaper report of criminal court proceedings purports to gratify that portion of society journalism treads on forbidden territory and becomes subversive of the public welfare.

A publisher has a tremendous power for good. Hence, capacity for power involves serious obligations to the weak that they may be restored to usefulness, if possible; and the innocent protected.

"O, it is excellent
To have a giant strength; but it is tyrannous."

—Shakespeare.

"The greatest attributes of heaven
is Mercy;
And 'tis the crown of Justice, and the Glory,

Where it may kill with right, to save with pity."

—Beaumont and Fletcher.

"What would you have? Your gentleness shall force
More than your force move us to gentleness."

—Shakespeare.

Finally, it is apparent that Protestantism's weakest point lies in the forlorn hope of the amelioration of the world's troubles through legislation alone. Protestantism needs, in fact, all Christendom needs to be motivated by the spirit of the founder of Christianity. Legislation, per se, can never save; it can only restrain.

Very sincerely yours,

S. L. JOHNSON.

STUDENTS AT HIGH SCHOOL REGISTER

Registration of incoming students at Poly high school will take place all of this week, according to an announcement made by D. K. Hammond, principal of the school.

There are 117 new students coming to the high school from the Julia Lathrop and Frances Willard Junior high schools.

Several new classes are being formed for the coming semester. Keen interest has been shown in journalism and it has been necessary to form a new class to take care of the growing demand for this subject. There will be a large class in public speaking starting this semester. Other new classes include drama, contemporary literature, forge and welding.

REPORTS SMUDGE POTS OVERTURNED

Police of Orange believe that they have a direct actionist in their midst, some one who is violently opposed to smudging.

Furthermore, they are inclined to think that others growers may have the same experience of Alvin Dierker, of 975 South Parker St., Orange, who awoke yesterday morning to discover that 51 smudge pots in his orange grove had been overturned and the oil contents spilled out.

Dierker listed his loss at $100 in cash, not to mention the work of righting the pots and filling them again.

PRINCIPALS TO AID NEW WORK IN EDUCATION

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS IS PLANNED

Another class in public speaking at the Y. M. C. A. was announced today by Secretary R. C. Smedley, who reports that the demand for such work has been so insistent that he has promised to start a new class next Monday evening, to run for the next three months.

Smedley is just completing work with one class, which has been steadily at its speechmaking since October, and which completes its class studies this week. A dozen men have gone through the course, and have mastered the technique of talking to such an extent that several of them have already been gaining favor as speakers.

The new class will meet for the first time on next Monday at 7:30 p. m. and the opening session will be open to all who are interested. Not more than 15 men will be accepted as members of the class. Smedley states that most of the places in the class have already been spoken for, and that the class will probably start off with a full roster on the first evening.

AUTHORITY ON RELIEF IS TO TALK AT 'Y'

A rare opportunity is offered the charitably inclined people of Santa Ana in the address to be given tonight at the Y.M.C.A. Forum by Miss Emily Wooley of Los Angeles, who is to discuss "The Problem of Charity and Relief," according to R. C. Smedley, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

"Miss Wooley has had many years of experience in charity work, and has come in contact with every phase of human need," said Smedley. She was for a number of years the chief case supervisor of the Los Angeles County Welfare department. She is at present chief case supervisor for the Los Angeles Tuberculosis association. She is also serving as an associate professor in social science at the University of Southern California.

"With such a background, she will be in a position to render a very great service to local welfare workers, and the Y.M.C.A. urgently invited all such interested persons to take advantage of her visit to Santa Ana. The forum session will begin at 7:30 p. m. Following Miss Wooley's address there will be time for discussion and questions.

WHY PEOPLE GET SICK

The young man who repeatedly disobeys the statutory law builds a tendency toward crime and in time becomes a FIXED CRIMINAL. It's the law of habit.

The same is true in the law of health. We over-indulge in all kinds of rich foods, and if nature calls for the act of elimination while we are quite busy we postpone the act. The next time nature calls it is too late, for the waste matter will be dry and hard, indicating that a feverish condition has been set up and the poisonous liquids ABSORBED by the COLON, KIDNEYS and BLOOD STREAM. In time the HEALTH FUNCTIONS have broken down and we find ourselves in the clutches of Constipation, Mucus Colitis, Kidney and Bladder trouble, Back ache, Nervousness, Insomnia, Asthma, Rheumatism, Intestinal stasis, Gastritis, Stomach ulcers, floating spots in front of the eyes, etc., and just enough energy left to express an IRRITABLE DISPOSITION.

FACTS

The above are facts and the sooner all sick people recognize TOXIC POISONS in the colon as being the beginning and TRUE SOURCE of human ailments the more fully will they appreciate the methods and the SUCCESS OF

B. & P. W. CLUB HEARS TALK ON 'REDS', CRIME MEETING HERE

Tracing the relationship between the so-called crime wave and the menace of the red propaganda, and the present economic crisis, R. R. Miller, head of the community chest and leader in the Santa Ana and Santa Monica movements to establish city labor bureaus, yesterday gave an intensely interesting talk before Business and Professional Women meeting in Kenner's cafe for their weekly luncheon session.

In his talk, Miller outlined some of the problems confronting the local welfare agencies, not only in their record books, whether for profit or loss, are eligible to receive the 4-H pins donated by the California Bankers' association. W. B. Williams, of Santa Ana, who is the county key banker, will present the pins.

All 4-H members who completed the year's work and turned in their record books, whether for profit or loss, are eligible to receive the 4-H pins donated by the secretary, R. D. Flaherty.

All clubs which have fulfilled the necessary requirements, will be presented with charters awarded by the United States department of agriculture and the University of California. W. R. Ralston, assistant state club leader, will present the charters.

Miss Maybell Eager, home demonstration agent at large, will be present to tell us about the Girls' 4-H work that is being started in Orange county.

The winner of the poultry department cup will be presented by the chairman of the Farm bureau poultry department, W. C. Childers, of Santa Ana.

Three Orange county fair cups will be awarded by Charles Van Wyk, director of the Orange county junior fair.

That intelligent co-operation and continued assistance from the general public, was an absolute necessity in meeting the red menace, was Miller's conclusion, and at the close of his talk, further valuable information was brought out in the general discussion which ensued, and in which he and Miss Anna Karlsson, of the County Welfare department and a member of the B. and P. W., gave much valuable information to the club members.

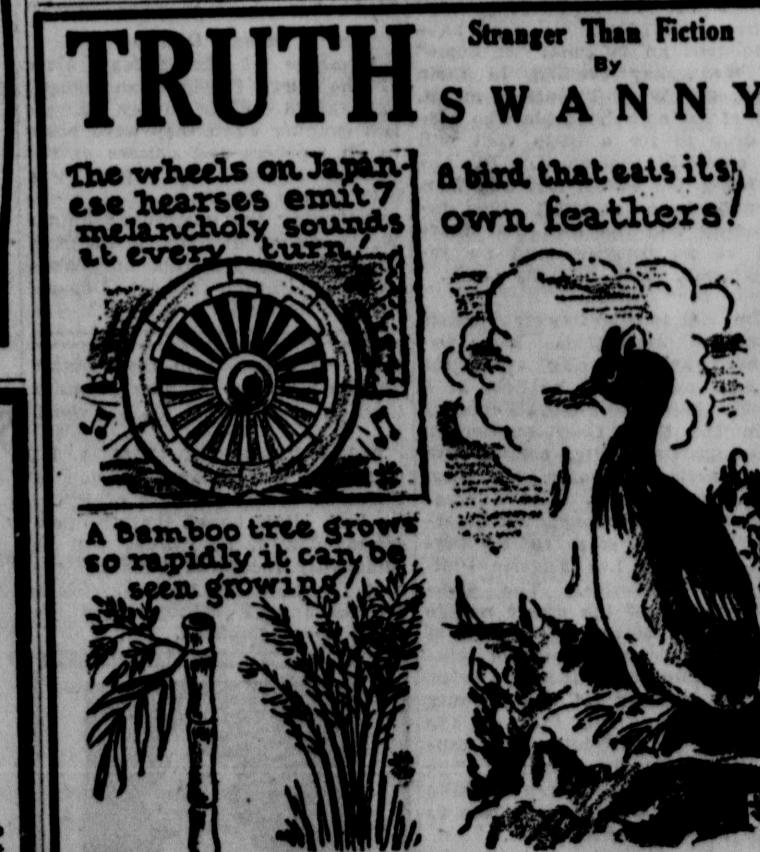

Both stressed the fact that individuals should confine their giving to the accredited channels in combating the tendency to pauperize individuals by bestowing charity indiscriminately, and told of concrete cases in proof. Miss Karlsson especially pointed out the fact that many of the problem cases with which they have to contend, are in reality, cases for other states, and that California is rapidly becoming the dumping ground for undesirable families from other states less favored climatically, all of whom are eventually placed on the charities list here.

According to the practice now prevalent in monarchies the wife of the reigning king does not succeed to the throne in case of the latter's death.

Altar Society Of Church Gives Card Party This Evening

ORANGE, Jan. 27.—The card party to be given by members of the Altar society of the Holy Family Catholic church this evening is being anticipated by those planning to attend. The party is to be given in the guild hall of the church on East Chapman avenue. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Laura McHugh, Miss Clara Keith and Mrs. Ralph Butters. Both bridge and "600" are to be played and refreshments are to be served. Attractive prizes will be awarded at the close of the games.

CHURCH NIGHT SCHEDULE TO BEGIN FEB. 4

The annual observance of Church Night in the First Methodist church is to start next week with dinners and special study programs each Wednesday night from February 4 to March 25.

Some of the outstanding leaders and educators of Southern California will be on the program. Various groups will be organized for different ages from children to adults. The dinners will be served every Wednesday evening promptly at 6 o'clock.

Leaders and the general subjects they will discuss during the course are as follows: Dr. J. Hudson Ballard of Occidental college, Los Angeles, "The New Psychology and Christianity"; Ray Addinkson, superintendent of Orange county schools, "The Big Trail"; Dr. M. A. Honline, religious educational expert, Pasadena, "The Development of Christian Personality"; Mrs. Jennie Tessmann, Santa Ana junior college, "Books That Are Moulding American Thought"; Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the church, "What May I Believe?"

Registrations are now being taken at the church office for those who desire to enroll in any of the courses. Committees in charge of the series of dinners and study courses are as follows: executive, A. H. Theal, James H. Hughes, Mrs. Hazel Maxwell, W. A. Taylor and Mrs. R. L. Matthews; arrangements, W. A. Taylor, Mrs. Frank Stockbrand, A. J. Head, A. J. Lasby and Mrs. S. S. Vogt.

Matrimony's most dangerous period is about the twenty-fifth year, according to one German expert, who adds that many of these belated marriages tragedies occur because husband or wife is too devoted to the children and neglects the other partner.

It is said that women own 40 per cent of the wealth of United States.

FAITHFUL CREATOR IS SERMON TOPIC

Declaring that of three ways God uses to bring men back to Him, two have been visited on the world and signs of the third are now present, the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, preached Sunday on the subject, "A Faithful Creator."

"There are three ways in which God visits men to bring them back to Him: War, pestilence and famine. The first two have been visited upon the world, the World war and the epidemic of influenza in 1918. In the depression of the day, it looks as if famine might be approaching. Even now many are hungry and some starving. We must return to God to avoid the third visitation."

"Three things we must do to return to God and find relief: Rest upon His faithfulness; commit our souls to Him, and co-operate with Him."

Church Leaders Plan Gathering

Men from South America, China and India will be on the program at the special meeting of the Orange and Riverside county groups of the World Mission of Christianity of the Methodist church which is to be held in Riverside this week. The sessions will be held at the First Methodist church in the adjoining county seat Wednesday and Thursday.

Speakers will include James L. Ding, president of the Anglo-Chinese college, Foochow; H. K. Mondol, of the Calcutta high school, and Dr. George P. Howard, missionary to the educated groups of South America. A large delegation from the Santa Ana church is expected to be in attendance at the two-day mission session.

Covering 60 rows at a time, a mechanical cotton duster used by southern growers is able to treat 25 acres an hour, or 200 acres a day.

MORNING CLUB TO HEAR TALK BY DR. DICKIE

The Rev. F. Dickie, retired missionary, who spent 38 years in China working through the China Inland mission, will be the principal speaker at the session of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at Kettner's cafe next Thursday morning. The mission worker has many interesting experiences of life in the Orient and of his contacts with brigands and Communists. He has filled a number of engagements in Santa Ana during the past few weeks.

Entertainment features for the program, which have been arranged by the program committee, Gene Kahn and Edward Cochems, feature dramatic readings and song and dance numbers.

Mrs. R. M. Conkin, who directed the play, "The Womanless Wedding," at the Ebell club several months ago, will be on the program with several readings and mimic presentations. Velma and Barbara Browne, juvenile entertainers, will dance and sing, with their father, Eugene Browne, of radio station KREG, as their accompanist.

Club members are invited to bring guests for their unusual program which the committee feels will be especially interesting.

Six-Year-Old Has Merry Afternoon Party

A delightful afternoon party took place yesterday when Mrs. L. A. Post entertained in her home at 1615 West Tenth street in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of her little son, Clifford Lee. At an early hour a group of boys and girls arrived, and a merry session of games and contests ensued.

Clifford was presented with some very desirable gifts, and these were placed on display while the guests enjoyed their afternoon amidst the American beauty roses and sweet peas which adorned the room. During the refreshment hour the Valentine motif was much in evidence, with tall red tapers decking the table. Favors received much attention, and to climax the interesting time, the happy little lad was presented with a large white cake topped with gleaming red candles. Mrs. I. L. Bouldin and Mrs. W. F. Strain assisted Mrs. Post in serving.

Those present, other than Clifford, were Lavita Schneider, Billie Carey, Donna, Gloria and Buddy Mendenhall, Arthur Baird, Virginia May Gates, Billie Bittie, Junior Rush, Robbie Sturgeon, Gertrude Doolittle, Phyllis and Mary Ann Sandon, Marian Strain, Dorothy Bouldin and Genevieve Ledge.

"Mother of Santa Ana" Observes Birthday Anniversary

Interesting Events Are In Store For Ebell Women

It was with flowers, so suggestive of the springtime of life when Mrs. Margaret Spurgeon first came to the village which has now grown to be the city of Santa Ana, that a host of friends showed their interest in her eighty-first birthday anniversary when it was celebrated late last week with her son's wife, Mrs. Robert Spurgeon, as hostess in her home, 2425 Valencia street.

Friends of many years' standing assembled to share the happy afternoon whose hours sped swiftly with lively chat and reminiscences of early days in the history of the city founded by the late William H. Spurgeon. Late in the afternoon a dainty refreshment course was served, including a birthday cake decked with gleaming candles. Mrs. Robert Spurgeon was assisted by Mrs. D. K. Walton of Fullerton and Miss Hester Covington of this city.

Those sharing the hospitality, other than Mrs. Margaret Spurgeon, the honoree, were Mesdames D. K. Walton, Sue Greenleaf Buswell, Susan Sweet, Alice Turner, William Strassburger, L. A. Mayfield, A. A. Jones, Little Hamilton, L. F. Kelley, Mattie Wiseman, George McKinney, George Preble J. McComal, T. W. Oglesby, Sue Spencer, Frank Cuthbert, C. M. Aker, and the Misses Melie Matheny, Florence Haskin and Hester Covington.

During the short business session, presided over by the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, a committee was appointed to confer with the employment committee of the city. Members are the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, and Ralph Smedley.

The ministers and their wives and guests represented in the group were the Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Evan Owings, First Baptist; George Warner, First M. E.; R. C. Smedley, Y. M. C. A.; Samuel Edgar, Reformed Presbyterian; Walter Scott Buchanan, First Christian; R. W. Harlow, United Brethren; C. M. Aker, Spurgeon Memorial M. E. South; U. E. Hardwick; Philip Norton, William H. McPeak, United Presbyterian; O. Scott McFarland, First Presbyterian; Perry Frederick Schrock, First Congregational; Miss Nancy Elder, Y. W. secretary; the Rev. O. W. Reinus, Richland Avenue M. E., and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Powell.

Plans are progressing for the Valentine bridge party which the Modern Poetry section is to give Saturday evening, February 14, in the home of Mrs. Edward M. Nealley. Play will begin at 2 o'clock, and tickets may be secured from any of the section members. Proceeds will go to the general Ebell fund.

Ebell women interested in further contract bridge lessons and parties, are asked to communicate with the finance committee, as the one held last week with Mrs. W. H. Haddon as instructor, was so successful and others have been requested.

Section activities of the coming month include a food sale on Valentine day by the Day Nursery board, which, by the way, has requested donations of old blankets and bedspreads to meet an urgent need at the nursery. Other events to come will be the review of Marc Connally's "Green Pastures," to be given by Mrs. F. C. Benjamin of Anaheim, at the Music, Art and Drama section meeting with Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, 2035 Victoria drive, on February 6. Holly Lash Visel will sing Negro spirituals at this program, which will be open to all clubwomen. Modern Poetry section members will hear Mrs. John A. Tessmann on the works of William Rose Benet on February 14, in the home of Mrs. S. B. Marshall, 2116 North Main street.

Second Home Economic section members will entertain their husbands at an evening party on February 11. Current Events members are to hear Miss Maude Moore, Y. W. health education secretary, at their next luncheon meeting. Tomorrow, Mrs. E. M. Nealley will review "Laughing Boy" by Oliver LaFarge, for the Second Book Review section meeting in the clubhouse lounge.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Another Canadian Discovery

My second Canadian discovery concerns an almond paste used to frost fine cakes, usually fruit or wedding cakes. I asked what was the delicious layer of "something" beneath the boiled white frosting, and was told that it was "marzipan," and was made from almonds. When I got home I looked it up and found a fine recipe in a Creole cookbook, listed under the name of "Marchpane," a translation of the Creole "massapains."

12 ounces shelled almonds
1 ounce bitter almonds or 1 teaspoon almond extract
4 egg whites
1/2 pounds sifted powdered sugar

Scald, skin, wash and dry the almonds, then pound to a paste, or put through the food chopper. Whip the egg whites to a froth, gradually add sugar until the mass takes on a glossy look, then alternate sugar and almond meal until the ingredients are all used up and the mass very thick and shiny (more sugar may be used if necessary). Spread a thick layer of the Marchpane on the cake and dry in a cool oven or on a warm cupboard shelf overnight. The boiled white frosting is put over the marchpane after it is well set.

Delicious small confections are made with the marchpane. Dust the moulding board with powdered sugar, knead the dough and roll out as you would cookie dough. Cut in short lengths and tie into knots or other fancy shapes, put them on a lightly buttered pan and bake in a cool even until just a light tan.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Trifle
(6 servings)
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups hot milk
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-3 teaspoon almond flavoring
8 thin slices stale sponge cake or 3 stale cup cakes
1 cup heavy whipping cream
1 small glass cooking sherry
This was a favorite dessert when I was a small girl. We had it for Sunday dinner times innumerable. That was when mechanical refrigerators were an wild an idea as any of Jules Verne's thrillers, and ordinary ice not always available, so the dessert was chilled in the coolest off cellar you could imagine. This one we are going to make after the old rule, but it is going to cool its heels in our brand new mechanical refrigerator.

Whip the eggs with sugar and stir into the hot milk. Cook to a soft custard, take from the fire, cool and add a pinch of salt and the flavoring extracts. Cut the cake into thin squares, place in a mold and pour the sherry over (sherry optional; any favorite fruit syrup may be used, or none at all). As soon as the custard has cooled, combine it with half of the cream, whipped stiff and carefully fold into the custard sauce.

Into this creamy sauce drop the prepared cake; stir carefully with two forks, so that the cake will not be broken and muddled. Place in the freezing pan and chill without stirring until fairly stiff.

Serve in sherbet glasses with a spoonful of whipped sweetened cream over each portion.

Mrs. Waters Hostess

Mrs. Donald R. E. Waters entertained 17 sorority sisters with a 1:30 o'clock luncheon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Oldfield.

Blue and yellow was the color scheme used for the table decorations. Blue bachelor buttons and yellow marguerites formed the centerpiece. Covers were placed for the following members of the Tri Delta sorority of the University of California:

Dorothy Morris, of Montebello Park; Lucille Radford of Bolsa; Mary Irene Scott, of Fullerton; Delora Rich, Ruth Brenon, Lois Olmstead, Morrice Ecklund, Pauline Byrne, Alice Hagerman and Rosemary Cameron, of Los Angeles; Marion Hellton, of Eagle Rock; Betty Sternberg, of Pasadena; Helen Beth King, of Pomona; Dorothy Durkee, of Newport Beach; Florence Abbey, of San Diego; Mildred Erwin, of Hollywood; Thelma Treckling, of Alhambra, and Mignon Waters, of Garden Grove.

Following luncheon a business session was held and a social time enjoyed.

Girls Entertained

Mrs. F. L. Mauldin entertained the Camp Fire Girls and their leader, Mrs. William Viers Brady, with a 6 o'clock dinner at her home north of town Tuesday evening. Covers were placed for Donita Jordan, Phyllis Sprinkle, Dorothy Beardsley, Wilma Wilson, Frances Merchant, Ethel Chaffee, Lois Durham, Ruth Nash, Eleanor Brady, Helen Waer, Dena Lee Mauldin, Harriett Krause, Helen Harper, Dorothy Smith, and Mrs. Brady.

Games were played during the evening.

Almond and Peanut Wafers are going to be made in our Mixing Bowl kitchen tomorrow.

Here's the Way to Treat Those Miserable Colds So Prevalent Here Now

WITH scattered cases of flu breaking out in this locality, don't take chances with colds NOW—it's too dangerous! Unless checked quickly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of flu with all its serious complications.

1 At the first sign of stiffness or irritation in the nose or throat, snuff some Vicks VapoRub up the nose several times a day. This will often check a cold at the start.

2 If the head is all "stuffed up"—clogged with mucus or phlegm—or there is much coughing, melt a teaspoonful of Vicks in a bowl or kettle of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for five minutes at a time. This treatment has a remarkable effect in clearing the air passages, easing the breathing, soothing the irritation, relieving the cough, and helps to prevent the cold from spreading.

3 At bedtime, in order to get the benefit of its long-continued stimulation and inhalation effect, rub Vicks vigorously over the throat and chest and cover with warm flannel.

4 If possible, stay at home until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.

Mother!—treat children's colds promptly, but avoid "dosing." Too much internal medicine often upsets the child's digestion and lowers the vitality. Being applied externally, Vicks does not upset the stomach, and can be used freely and as often as needed without the slightest harmful effect.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH COLDS NOW!

JUNIOR HI ATHLETIC POLICY IS SUCCESS

ties have never allowed their two high schools to engage in an athletic contest even though they now are in the same league.

"This year under our new system we have had inter-school competition as usual with heavyweight and lightweight teams playing a regular schedule. There were between 50 and 60 boys participating on these two teams. The outstanding achievement of the past season, however, was the highly organized intra-mural football schedule. Julia Lathrop Junior high school alone had 140 boys playing on 10 different intra-mural teams over a period of one month. Thus the emphasis for this year is being placed where it will do the largest number of boys the greatest amount of good.

Stars Slow to Develop

"Year after year I have seen boys make good on our senior high school teams who were too small or too timid to make junior high school teams. On the other hand I have seen many boys in the junior high school who had promise of being outstanding athletes only to drop suddenly by the wayside or go to work rather than continue their education. This is another reason why we have changed our emphasis from the few on the team to the mass of boys who will participate on the intra-mural teams.

"However, our inter-school athletics have not been discontinued altogether. We have merely discontinued contests and rivalry between the Santa Ana Junior high schools in order that we might place the emphasis where it will do the most good.

"There are a few who feel that there should be competition between the two schools. This, of course, is a matter of opinion. unquestionably there are several values to be derived from such competition.

"It is possible if there were more than just our two junior high schools in the county, as well as sufficient men at each school to divide the work, we might be justified in continuing competition between the two schools.

"But as long as these conditions do not exist I think that a careful consideration of the matter will prove even to the most doubtful that we have taken a step forward here in Santa Ana's junior high school program when we have placed the emphasis where it will make possible active competition before we had less than one-third in football for almost 200 boys at one junior high school alone where of this number. In some of the other sports an even larger participation will have been made possible."

Girls Entertained

Mrs. F. L. Mauldin entertained the Camp Fire Girls and their leader, Mrs. William Viers Brady, with a 6 o'clock dinner at her home north of town Tuesday evening. Covers were placed for Donita Jordan, Phyllis Sprinkle, Dorothy Beardsley, Wilma Wilson, Frances Merchant, Ethel Chaffee, Lois Durham, Ruth Nash, Eleanor Brady, Helen Waer, Dena Lee Mauldin, Harriett Krause, Helen Harper, Dorothy Smith, and Mrs. Brady.

Her part as a hardened frontier woman in Paramount's "Fight Caravans," forced May Boley to smoke black stogie cigars throughout the production.

"BLUE ANGEL" HERE FOR 4 DAY RUN

"The Blue Angel," Paramount's great picture starring Emil Jannings and Marlene Dietrich, will open a four-day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater, tomorrow, showing "Charlie's Aunt," which ends its run there to-night.

This is the first picture in which the great Jannings speaks English and he is said to be even word.

more of a sensation in the talkies than as a silent star, although his famous pictures of the past will always leave a memory, such as "Sins of the Father," "The Last Command" and "The Way of All Flesh."

The story concerns a man, ruined because of his love for a cafe entertainer, who saps his strength of mind until he finally dies of a broken heart. Miss Dietrich is making her first screen appearance in Santa Ana in "The Blue Angel." The dramatic power of the picture is tremendous, while the simple love of the girl which spells doom for the man is appealing to every sense of the word.

The TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The natives stood up in the boat and Scouty said, "Say, please take note how easy they can paddle us. It seems no work at all. They must be very, very strong, the way the boat slides right along. I guess the reason they're good is 'cause they do not stall."

"You're right," replied the Travel Man. "You'll always find, son, that you can do anything much better if you always do it right. Too many people loaf through life and run right into heaps of strife. Hard work will very seldom get a person in a plight."

Then Scouty broke right in. Said he, "We all are happy as can be, so let's join in a merry song. It's lots of fun to sing. I'll start it off. You all come in. Be sure and wait till I begin." And then he started on a song. "Twas quite a pretty thing.

Wee Scouty really sang it swell. The others waited for a spell and then they all decide that they'd

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is part. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

PRINCIPALS TO AID NEW WORK IN EDUCATION

February 11. Orange Union High school; February 18, Huntington Beach Union High school; February 25, Brea-Olinda Union High school; March 4, Fullerton Union High school; March 11, Santa Ana High school; March 18, Newport Harbor Union High school; March 25, Garden Grove Union High school.

"These broadcasts are to be made possible by the courtesy of the Santa Ana Register, owners of Station KREG, and Tustin Union High school. The Orange County High School Principals' association feels greatly indebted to the above mentioned parties for the privilege of having a small part in the great movement to the people, through the magic of the radio, worth while entertainment."

Pointing out that the efforts of schools to attract parents to class rooms had not brought many visitors, Means declared that now, through the radio hookup with KREG, "we now propose to take our school to the parents."

The desire to share with the rest of the county the music of the Aeolian pipe organ recently installed at the Tustin school was responsible to a great extent for launching of the radio project, he said. The Duo Art producer will make it possible to broadcast music exactly as played by the world's greatest organists, in addition to hearing local organists. Each Thursday the program will be extended 15 minutes, from 11 to 11:45 a. m. in order to provide special entertainment such as solo readings, one-act plays, musical organization numbers, special assembly speakers and class room recitations.

"We anticipate that such a radical departure in school work will increase interest in our school and district and more especially stimulate student interest in high school work all over the county.

"With this thought in mind I am happy to announce the dates of the broadcasts as arranged thus far: January 28, Anaheim Union High school; February 4, Capistrano Union High school;

In his talk, Atkinson recalled the development of communication from the earliest methods known down to the radio, pointing out how broadcasting has stimulated unity, erased time and annihilated space.

"The struggles of education have been simplified by the courage of new leaders who have not been afraid of the frontier and who have utilized every aid that science could offer," he declared.

Referring to the Tustin school radio hookup, he said:

"It will build a confidence in the public toward our schools. It will make for better teaching because we are now subject to honest criticism. It gives the advantage of our efforts to the whole community.

"In this universal communication we shall be able to erase misunderstanding. Mr. Means must be congratulated. It takes courage and vision to pioneer.

"It is again a very happy situation that finds Mr. Burke of The Register willing to invest his resources in the equipment that makes this innovation possible.

The students of the Tustin High school should be happy, indeed, to appear on the front page of educational advancement. The place of radio will grow as all other avenues have widened in the field of learning and social equipment.

"We take pride in Orange county in having those who are not afraid to lead out into the new and modern fields of social service."

HERE'S MORE ABOUT BRIGGS HUNT TRIP

Modern high schools offer wonderful opportunities and it is our purpose to let you know about them first hand."

Means explained that the High School Principals' association of Orange county had pledged its co-operation in the project and that each Wednesday the various high schools will broadcast a 20-minute program from the Tustin studio.

"Naturally we will make mistakes as everyone does who must learn by experience, but we honestly think that we have stumbled upon something that the schools of Orange county will help develop into a powerful educational aid."

Unsuspecting Bear

I handed the glasses back and John simply faded behind me. With the rifle to my shoulder, it seemed but a few seconds before the head and neck of the bear pushed through and into full view. At that time he had never suspected our presence, and I shot immediately. The 190 gr. bullet entered about an inch from the eye. Down the head went. I started up to him when he half raised it and I shot again for the same place, although I don't believe the second shot was necessary. We went up to him and then the reason why he wasn't seen sooner was explained. Where he had been feeding was a depression, deep enough for him to stand in and not be seen and besides, this was filled with rank growth of berry bushes.

I have killed quite a few bear-Kodiak, grizzlies and black—and among them some very nice specimens but I feel safe in saying this was the largest black bear I ever killed and as large as I ever saw—an unusually good sized bear.

Prairie Guide

John did a fine piece of work in getting me so close. I had felt sure the bear was through feeding or had scented us and left, but John wouldn't be denied. We were both pleased. We couldn't skin him where he fell and had quite a task turning him over several times until down the hill he went, rolling and bounding, until he came to rest on a little flat bench some 60 or 70 yards below. Here we proceeded to skin him out and were back to camp in good time. How we feasted on blueberries of which either John or Carl, sometimes both, would gather a bucket full or more, every day. The big bull moose were less in evidence as they began to rub off the velvet in preparation for the mating season when the battle-royale would be fought for possession and companionship of the female of the species. Also the grizzly sign wasn't encouraging so we concluded to go back to the sheep and goat camp, pick up some supplies and trophies we had cached there and look into another section more promising for grizzlies.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Johns, of Bay View drive, entertained the following guests at a dinner party Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hazmalhalch, of Fullerton; Miss Laura Fees, Bill Talbot and Mrs. Johns' mother, Mrs. Isabell Talbot, of Monrovia. Mrs. Talbot will spend a few days visiting her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of Willowbrook, enjoyed the week end at their beach home on Bay View drive.

James Sheeley, of Park avenue is at the Sawtelle hospital seriously ill. As soon as he is able he will undergo an operation. His wife, Mrs. Josephine Sheeley, who was recently operated on at the Pasadena hospital, is now at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. SHERLOCK HOLMES—The Stock-Broker's Clerk

The word of the story, "said the well-built, fresh-completed fellow in the shiny top hat which marked him as belonging to the class of smart young London financial clerks, was Sherlock Holmes' latest client. He was telling his story as we rode to Birmingham, while a series of strange events had led from London.

"The word of the story," said Mr. Hall Pycroft, "that I show myself up as a confounded fool!" Pycroft narrated, "and were out my boots padding up London office stairs. My money was about gone when I saw an advertisement of a vacancy of Mewson & Williams, the big stock-brokerage firm in Lombard Street. I sent in my application, but without the least hope of getting the job. But back came an answer saying I might report for work the next Monday."

VISIONS OF THE FUTURE

Gerald Swope, president of the General Electric Corporation, emphasized some important matters at the Electric Club luncheon yesterday in Los Angeles. He stated:

One of the real problems confronting society and industry is the stabilization of employment. It is not enough to alleviate unemployment when it comes. Something must be done to prevent it. It is not the problem of industry alone. It is a problem of society as a whole, and of industry.

From industry's standpoint it is necessary for the reason, if for no other, that the workman may have the peace of mind necessary for him to do good work and get enjoyment out of it. This peace of mind as well as his other assets are necessary to society.

Never in my experience has there been a time of unemployment when there existed as there does now so aroused a public sentiment not only to alleviate the misfortunes of unemployment, but to get something done that shall prevent its recurrence.

What a tremendous contribution America would make to the world if it could lead the way to the solution of this problem.

One can listen with real interest and appreciation to the statement on unemployment from such a man as Mr. Swope, for the leaders of the General Electric Corporation have been addressing themselves to the solution of this very problem. Mr. Swope himself has given a great deal of time to it. They believe they are working it out in their own establishment, so that the fear of unemployment, through depression or otherwise, shall not be constantly haunting the imagination of the workman to ruin his highest enjoyment. They are working it out on the program of the company and the men doing each their share, and it all comes about because they have a social vision.

Apropos to the remarks of Mr. Swope are the statements made by Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, and who is so prominently spoken of as a possible candidate for President in 1932 on the Democratic ticket. He said in addressing the Harvard School of Business, in part:

I hope the day may come when these great business organizations will truly belong to the men who are giving their lives and their efforts to them, I care not in what capacity. Then they will use capital truly as a tool and they will be all interested in working it to the highest economic advantage. Then an idle machine will mean to every man in the plant who sees it an unproductive charge against himself. Then every piece of material not in motion will mean to the man who sees it an unproductive charge against himself. Then we shall have zest in labor, provided the leadership is competent and the division fair. Then we shall dispose, once and for all, of the charge that in industry organizations are autocratic and not democratic. Then we shall have all the opportunities for a cultural wage which the business can provide. Then, in a word, men will be as free in co-operative undertakings and subject only to the same limitations and chances as men in individual businesses. Then we shall have no hired men. That objective may be a long way off, but it is worthy to engage in the research and efforts of the Harvard School of Business.

AMBIGUITY VS. CONFIDENCE

There seems to be considerable doubt evidenced by discussions and debate as to just what the attitude of President Hoover is on the Wickersham report, and on the "wet" and "dry" question.

One day, by the statement, we would understand that President Hoover is unequivocally "dry" and opposed to those suggestions and recommendations in the Wickersham report that tend toward weakening the Eighteenth Amendment in public estimation or breaking down its enforcement provision.

The next day we read even from the prohibition leaders like Senator Fess that the former idea concerning President Hoover is not quite right—that he is not determined—but rather has, as Senator Fess expressed it, "an open mind" on the matter.

Then the next day comes a statement direct from his secretary, Mr. Walter Newton, to the effect that "President Hoover stands on his message to Congress on the Wickersham report." It was the interpretation of this message that caused the controversy.

We cannot help but believe that the general tenor, however, of President Hoover's statements, that the intent is that he strongly supports the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act, and the department of law enforcement will have his support and direction in the fine work that it is doing through the country. While it is unfortunate for the country and for the cause that the language is not more unequivocal, yet we believe that those favoring the Constitution can legitimately claim the absolute support of the President.

SLIPPERS OF GOLDFISH SKIN

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt Saturday night spoke of the great amount of leisure which the women of China have because they do not follow styles. For a thousand years and more they have been wearing the same style. This is equally true of all women of the orient.

The influence of style in our country, and its lack of influence in the orient came to mind this morning for a news item states that evening shoes are being made of goldfish skin. The new slippers give the effect of gold or silver metal. At present they cost about eighty dollars a pair. It is said they are to be manufactured for a more popular price in the near future.

What are the advantages of slippers of goldfish skins? Clever brains are undoubtedly at work on the phases of that question now for they can be sold. Anything can be sold.

A FUTURE FOR TELEVISION

Through the medium of television, stock quotations were broadcast in Chicago yesterday. Those who were quoted in the news dispatches were only interested in the application of this wonderful process to stock brokerage. As was quoted from the technician himself: "At the present state of development a broker can sit comfortably in his office, smoke a stogie, and watch the tape flicker across the television set at his elbow. Residents in outlying districts and guests at hotels could get the quotations in the same manner." He said he saw small television reception sets installed in automobiles and brokers watching the quotations as they drove to lunch, home or to the office.

Would this be a great gain? Those who are anxious over the slightest rise and fall of the margins of stocks are not the ones who have made real investments by buying the stock and placing it in their safety deposit boxes. They are not particularly interested in the action of the "bulls" and "bears" each hour during a stock market period. To be sure, brokers are, and in rapidly tumbling prices, bankers have to be.

So it may be that this television will serve great usefulness, and possibly as the broker goes to his place of luncheon or maybe in the home, he can have a television set that he can carry with him, place it on the table in front of him and keep track of the ebb and flow. It will help his wife or the cook very considerably for he will be so absorbed that he will not notice whether the meat is rare, well done or medium, or whether the pie has been scorched.

Maybe his wife can learn it so she will note whether the "mercury" is moving in the right direction and whether it is an opportune time to present him with the bill for last month's clothes. And then we can imagine some other uses.

IN DARK HOURS

A suicide is a sad commentary on a man's life. Former Governor and former United States Senator Edward Irving Edwards, with his own hand ended his life in his apartment in Jersey City.

Mr. Edwards, as governor of the state, and later representing New Jersey in the United States Senate, owned his notoriety to his "outwetting" the "wettest" men in the country. This was his prime ideal, and he worked for it with a devotion worthy of a most altruistic purpose. But with shattered health, broken finances and ruined political hopes, there was nothing worth while, from his viewpoint, for which to live.

Happy is the man who, amidst the shattered wreck of temporal things around him, has an objective of the achievement of immortality through some route or other that will cause him to look upon the temporal disasters as merely incidents in the longer journey. Bryan, treated by the hands of fate in some of the ambitions of his life none the less harshly than was Senator Edwards, had his face constantly toward the rising sun, toward which he constantly looked, radiant with hope and expectation.

Fear Reflex Is Relic of Earliest Times

San Bernardino Sun

A German neurologist has been studying fear reactions in human beings. He finds that everyone, old or young, wise or foolish, courageous or timid, has an identical first reaction. This fear reflex, which he believes fundamental in human behavior is an automatic bodily reaction operating on a level below consciousness. He has found it always occurs in its initial stages, regardless of age, sex or physical condition.

The subjects of his experiment stood at ease without knowledge what was about to happen. A pistol shot was fired and a moving picture, which could be slowed up and analyzed, was taken of each person's reactions. The first move of every subject was to close the eyes. Other physical reactions followed in a definite order—contraction of appropriate facial muscles to bring a startled expression, bending forward of the head, elevation and forward projection of the shoulders, and so on.

All this took place before the brain got to work. Actions after the brain was on the job varied with the individual. The neurologist classed them roughly as spying, protective and flight movements.

The first reactions are considered fundamental and racial, a hang-over from man's earliest days, when they must have been essential in preserving life. Their value is less today, but they hang on. All it sounds reasonable enough, but what becomes of the hero of fiction who never quivers an eyelash in the face of sudden and appalling peril? Isn't he human?

The Omnipresent Scot

Toronto Daily Globe

Mr. G. K. Chesterton, admittedly a keen observer, has noted in certain parts of Canada a preponderating Scottish influence. He need not come across the sea to make such a discovery; and evidently his experience here has been similar to that of the Scot visiting London, who, in dealing only "wi' the heids o' deapments," also carried home the impression that his countrymen were doing very well abroad. Quite naturally, Mr. Chesterton, being a man of considerable distinction, met in Canada many of those in high places, and it followed as the night the day that he was thrown among men whose speech revealed them as having their ancestral root north of the Tweed.

Canada will not be critical of Mr. Chesterton's criticism, or compliment, whichever he intended. The people of this and all other countries long ago realized that they might as well make way for the Scot. It does not matter greatly whether he devotes his attention to industry, business, finance, politics, or especially theology, his tireless industry, rugged honesty and determination to succeed will land the Scot on the board of directors, among the college professors, or in Parliament. Canada's "Who's Who" is like a muster-roll of the Scottish clans; and it is the same all over the world. No country can have too many men of this type; and, anyway, no country, even if it tried, could resist their coming, and their forward march after they arrive.

Food for Thought!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A SIGH OF RELIEF

(Professor Millikan finds no indication that cosmic forces will ever be spent.)

Even back in the days of my childhood My conscience was not very clear.

And I shuddered with dread when some pessimist said That the end of the world might be near.

The thought that this vast, solid planet Could be suddenly burst into bits

By some shattering force, as it sped on its course,

Would frighten me out of my wits.

And later, when learned professors Of wide scientific renown

Gave voice to the fear that our own native sphere

Is certain, in time, to slow down—

To lose all the heat that it harbors

As it grows more enfeebled and weak,

And to drop from its place in sidereal space,

My terror I hardly could speak.

But while, quite without wobbling or trembling,

We still rush along on our way,

And the steady old world 'round its orbit is whirled

With no symptom of going astray.

While the rivers flow on in their channels

And the forests and fields remain green,

While the stars still stand by in the calm summer sky,

I feel quite a bit more serene.

And now Doctor Millikan tells us

That the suns are all still going strong,

Each continues to glow as it glowed long ago

And will probably glow right along.

The great cosmic force that maintains them

Cannot, he assures us, give out.

So farewell to the fears that have plagued me for years—

I have nothing to worry about.

Lost at Sea

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Today concludes the Conference in Washington, D. C., called by Jews, Catholics, and Protestants, for the purpose of "focusing the conscience of the Nation on the problem of unemployment." We trust that the Conference focused on this perplexing problem something more than that. The problem needs brains more than it needs conscience.

The feelings of the Nation are already aroused to fever pitch. Justice and humanity call loudly for permanent preventives. The sufferings of willing workers who can find no jobs are intolerable. Something must be done about it.

But what? That is where the problem begins.

Conscience does not enlighten us. Good will toward men does not blaze the trail. Many, many business men and politicians are just as eager as the priests and the prelates to prevent the suffering of men who are eager to work and can find no work to do. But they don't know how to tackle the problem. And their confusion becomes confusion worse confounded when they read the conflicting measures which are daily proposed by men supposed to be experts.

Some say that we ought to save more; others that we ought to spend more. Some insist that we need lower interest rates; others are equally certain that interest rates should be higher. Some tell us that lower taxes will cure our troubles; others are sure that nothing will save us but higher taxes. Some praise the banks for having saved us; others blame the banks for having caused the depression. And so it goes.

Imagine a ship lost at sea, with perfect engines and ample supplies of fuel and oil; a ship without officers or crew, but with plenty of able-bodied passengers, having the best will in the world toward each other, and of one mind concerning the port they wish to reach. Good will would leave them helpless. Unless they knew how to run the ship, they could focus their conscience on the problem all night, and when morning broke, they would still be lost at sea.

Thoughts On Modern Life

TAKING PROPHETS TOO SERIOUSLY

It never pays to take the prophets too seriously.

We may learn from them if we do not lean on them.

Every January the prophets take the field.

Bankers, business men, industrialists, and college professors get out their brushes and paint a picture of the year to come.

I have just waded through reams of forecasts of the economic outlook for the United States, in particular, and for the world, in general, and I emerge in a haze.
